

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA
AIKEN DIVISION

JOESETTE JOHNSON, Individually and on Behalf of All Others Similarly Situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

Soojimus, LLC,

Defendant.

Case No.: 1:24-cv-1144-SAL

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Joesette Johnson ("Plaintiff"), individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, respectfully submits the following for her Complaint against Defendant Soojimus, LLC. ("Soojimus", or "Defendant") and alleges upon personal knowledge as to herself and her own acts and experiences and, as to all other matters, upon information and belief, including investigation conducted by her attorneys.

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Plaintiff brings this class action lawsuit as an individual who purchased a stainless steel "Cupkin" brand cup produced by Defendant (hereinafter "Products" or "Cups")<sup>1</sup> for normal household use.
2. Unfortunately, the Products are defective because they contain lead ("Lead Defect").<sup>2</sup>
3. The Products were formulated, designed, manufactured, marketed, advertised, distributed, by Defendant.<sup>3</sup>

4. The entire list of products is as follows:

- 8 oz. and 12 oz. models of CUPKIN Double-Walled Stainless Steel Children's Cups sold in pairs. 12 different color combinations including a matching straw: blue and green, pink and purple, blue and gray, peach and teal, black and white, coral and yellow, green and pink, polignac and potpourri, brown and peach, rust and salmon, aqua and periwinkle, and cobalt and mint.<sup>4</sup>

5. Each of the Products was manufactured by Defendant, distributed to other corporations, and then sold to consumers across the United States. The Products were sold from 2018-2023, primarily on Amazon.<sup>5</sup>

6. The Product is defective because each individual Product can poison the user of the Product.<sup>6</sup>

7. Through marketing and sale, Defendant represented that the Products are safe and effective for their intended use as drinkware.

8. Other manufacturers formulate, produce, and sell non-poisonous drinkware with formulations and production methods that do not cause the product to poison the user, which is evidence that this poisoning risk inherent with Defendant's Products is demonstrably avoidable.

9. Feasible alternative formulations, designs, and materials are currently available and were available to Defendant at the time the Products were formulated, designed, and manufactured.

10. At the time of their purchases, Defendant did not notify Plaintiff, and similarly situated consumers, of the Products' risk of lead poisoning through the product labels, instructions, the ingredients list, other packaging, advertising, or in any other manner, in violation of state and federal law.

11. Plaintiff purchased the Product, while lacking the knowledge that Product could poison those who use the product, thus causing serious harm to those who use such Products.

12. Because Plaintiff was injured by the Products and all consumers purchased the worthless and dangerous Products, which they purchased under the presumption that the Products were safe, they have suffered losses.

13. As a result of the above losses, Plaintiff seeks damages and equitable remedies.

PARTIES

14. Plaintiff Joesette Johnson is a resident and citizen of North Augusta, South Carolina which is within Aiken county.

15. Plaintiff purchased and used the Products in or around 2021.

16. Defendant is a Washington based corporation that specializes in the sale of drinkware.

17. Defendant produces, markets, distributes, drinkware.<sup>7</sup>

18. Defendant has its headquarters at 16928 28th Ave SE, Bothell, Washington, 98012.

19. Upon information and belief, the planning and execution of the advertising, marketing, labeling, packaging, testing, and/or corporate operations concerning the Products and the claims alleged herein was primarily carried out at Defendant's headquarters and facilities within Washington.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

20. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) because: (1) there are 100 or more putative Class Members, (ii) the aggregate amount in controversy exceeds $5,000,000.00, exclusive of interest and costs, and (iii) there is minimal diversity because Plaintiff and Defendant are citizens of different states.

21. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiff's state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

22. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant has substantial aggregate contacts with this District, including engaging in conduct in this District that has a direct, substantial, reasonably foreseeable, and intended effect of causing injury to persons throughout the United States, and because they purposely availed themselves of the laws of the United States and South Carolina and has caused its products to be disseminated in this District.

23. Venue in this District and Court is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391(b) because Plaintiff resides in this District, a substantial part of the conduct or omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this District, Defendant transacts business in this District, and Defendant has intentionally availed itself of the laws and markets within this District.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

24. Defendant is a well-established corporation known for its production, distribution, and importation of air related products, including the Products at hand.

25. Defendant also distributes drinkware products, for children, worldwide.<sup>8</sup>

26. Defendant's website even states: "We make modern products for the everyday parent."<sup>9</sup>

27. Defendant also claims to be a safe company, stating: "Since our founding, Cupkin has always been guided by a strong commitment to producing safe, quality products. Our products are rigorously tested by United States CPSC (Consumer Product Safety Commission)-accredited labs to ensure we provide our consumers with safe products to make their jobs as parents better by using our products."<sup>10</sup>

The Products

28. The Products at hand are drinkware made for daily use by children.<sup>11</sup>

29. Unfortunately, the Products contain lead, a poisonous element that can cause serious health effects in humans and animals. Lead is especially dangerous to babies and young children.<sup>12</sup>

30. In more detail, these Products are drinkware, as seen below<sup>13</sup>:

Defendant's Misrepresentations and Omissions are Actionable

31. Plaintiff bargained for drinkware that was safe to use. Defendant's Products were, and still are, unsafe due to lead poisoning.

32. As a result of the risk of lead poisoning, Plaintiff, and all others similarly situated, were deprived the basis of their bargain given that Defendant sold them a product containing poisonous lead.

33. This dangerous lead poisoning risk inherent to the Products renders the Products unmerchtable and unfit for their normal intended use as safe to use drinkware.

34. The Products are not fit for their intended use by humans as they expose consumers to a poisonous element, lead.

35. Plaintiff is further entitled to damages for the injury sustained in being exposed to such dangerous lead, damages related to Defendant's conduct, and injunctive relief.

36. Plaintiff seeks to recover damages because the Products are adulterated, defective, worthless, and unfit for safe human use due to the lead contained within the Products.

37. Defendant engaged in fraudulent, unfair, deceptive, misleading, and/or unlawful conduct stemming from its omissions surrounding the risk of lead poisoning affecting the Products.

38. Indeed, no reasonable consumer, including Plaintiff, would have purchased the Products had they known of the material omissions of material facts regarding the possibility of lead poisoning.

PLAINTIFF'S FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

39. Plaintiff bought a Cupkin cup for personal household use, that being use as drinkware, near her residence in North Augusta, South Carolina.

40. On the date of the Products' recall by Defendant, July 20, 2023, Plaintiff was in possession of Defendant's product.

41. Plaintiff intended to buy a stainless-steel cup for normal household use, but instead received a contaminated Product, which contained lead.

42. Nowhere on the Products' packaging did Defendant disclose that the Products could poison the user.

43. If Plaintiff had been aware of the risk of poisoning in the Products, she would not have purchased the Products, or would have paid significantly less.

44. As a result of Defendant's actions, Plaintiff has incurred damages.

45. If the Products and packaging were reformulated to be safe and avoid lead poisoning, Plaintiff would choose to purchase the Products again in the future.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

46. Plaintiff brings this case as a class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 on her own behalf and as the Class representatives on behalf of the following:

Nationwide Class: All persons within the United States who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

South Carolina Subclass: All persons within South Carolina who purchased the Products within the applicable statute of limitations.

47. The Nationwide Class and South Carolina Subclass shall collectively be referred to herein as the "Classes."

48. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the Class definitions if further investigation and discovery indicate that the Class definitions should be narrowed, expanded, or otherwise modified.

49. Excluded from the Classes are governmental entities, Defendant, its officers, directors, affiliates, legal representatives, and employees.

50. This action has been brought and may be maintained as a class action under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23.

51. Numerosity – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(1). The Classes numbers at least in the thousands of persons. As a result, joinder of all Class members in a single action is impracticable. Class members may be informed of the pendency of this class action through a variety of means, including, but not limited to, direct mail, email, published notice, and website posting.

52. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Law and Fact – Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a)(2) and 23(b)(3). There are questions of fact and law common to the Classes that predominate over any question affecting only individual members. Those questions, each of which may also be certified under Rule 23(c)(4), include without limitation:

- a. whether Defendant’s advertising, merchandising, and promotional materials directed to Plaintiff were deceptive regarding the risks posed Defendant’s Products;
- b. whether Defendant made representations regarding the safety of the Products;
- c. whether Defendant omitted material information regarding the safety of the Products;
- d. whether Defendant’s Products were merchantable;
- e. whether Defendant violated the consumer protection statutes invoked herein;
- f. whether Defendant’s conduct alleged herein was fraudulent; and
- g. whether Defendant was unjustly enriched by sales of the Products.

53. The questions set forth above predominate over any questions affecting only individual persons concerning sales of Defendant’s Products throughout the United States and a class action is superior with respect to considerations of consistency, economy, efficiency, fairness, and equity to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of Plaintiff’s claims.

54. Typicality – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(3). Plaintiff’s claims are typical of those of the Classes in that the Class members uniformly purchased Defendant’s Products and were subjected to Defendant’s uniform merchandising materials and representations at the time of purchase.

55. Superiority – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(3). A class action is the appropriate method for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. The presentation of separate actions by individual Class members could create a risk of inconsistent adjudications, establish incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant, and/or substantially impair or impede the ability of Class members to protect their interests. In addition, it would be impracticable and undesirable for each member of the Classes who suffered an economic loss to bring a separate action. The maintenance of separate actions would place a substantial and unnecessary burden on the courts and could result in inconsistent adjudications, while a single class action can determine, with judicial economy, the rights of all Class members.

56. Adequacy – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(4). Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Classes because he is a member of the Classes and her interests do not conflict with the interests of the Classes that he seeks to represent. The interests of the members of the Classes will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiff and her undersigned counsel. Counsel is experienced in the litigation of civil matters, including the prosecution of consumer protection class action cases.

57. Insufficiency of Separate Actions – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(1). Absent a representative class action, members of the Classes would continue to suffer the harm described herein, for which they would have no remedy. Even if separate actions could be brought by individual consumers, the resulting multiplicity of lawsuits would cause undue burden and expense for both the Court and the litigants, as well as create a risk of inconsistent rulings and adjudications that might be dispositive of the interests of similarly situated purchasers, substantially impeding their ability to protect their interests, while establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant. The proposed Classes thus satisfy the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(1).

58. Declaratory and Injunctive Relief – Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2). Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief and declaratory relief, as described below, with respect to the members of the Classes as a whole. In particular, Plaintiff seeks to certify Classes to enjoin Defendant from selling or otherwise distributing the Products as labeled until such time that Defendant can demonstrate to the Court's satisfaction that the Products confer the advertised benefits and are otherwise safe to use as intended.

59. Additionally, the Classes may be certified under Rule 23(b)(1) and/or (b)(2) because:

- a. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Classes would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the Classes that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the Defendant;
- b. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Classes would create a risk of adjudications with respect to them which would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of other members of the Classes not parties to the adjudications, or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests; and/or
- c. Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Classes, thereby making appropriate final and injunctive relief with respect to the members of the Classes as a whole.

CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT I

Unjust Enrichment

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class and, alternatively, the Subclass)

60. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

61. Plaintiff, and the other members of the Classes, conferred benefits on Defendant in the form of monies paid to purchase Defendant's defective and worthless Products. These monies were not gifts or donations but were given in exchange for the Products.

62. Defendant voluntarily accepted and retained these benefits.

63. Because this benefit was obtained unlawfully, namely by selling and accepting compensation for Products unfit for human use, it would be unjust and inequitable for Defendant to retain the benefit without paying the value thereof.

64. Defendant received benefits in the form of revenues from purchases of the Products to the detriment of Plaintiff, and the other members of the Classes, because Plaintiff, and members of the Classes, purchased mislabeled products that were not what Plaintiff and the Classes bargained for and were not safe and effective, as claimed.

65. Defendant has been unjustly enriched in retaining the revenues derived from the purchases of the Products by Plaintiff and the other members of the Classes. Retention of those monies under these circumstances is unjust and inequitable because Defendant's labeling of the Products was misleading to consumers, which caused injuries to Plaintiff, and members of the Classes, because they would have not purchased the Products had they known the true facts.

66. Because Defendant's retention of the non-gratuitous benefits conferred on them by Plaintiff and members of the Classes is unjust and inequitable, Defendant must pay restitution to Plaintiff and members of the Nationwide Class for its unjust enrichment, as ordered by the Court.

COUNT II

Breach of Express Warranty

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class and, alternatively, the Subclass)

67. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

68. Plaintiff, and each member of the Classes, formed a contract with Defendant at the time they purchased the Products.

69. The terms of the contract include the promises and affirmations of fact, that the products were safe to use, made by Defendant on the Products' packaging and through marketing and advertising.

70. This labeling, marketing, and advertising constitute express warranties and became part of the basis of the bargain and are part of the standardized contract between Plaintiff and the members of the Classes and Defendant.

71. As set forth above, Defendant purports through its advertising, labeling, marketing, and packaging, to create an express warranty that the Product is safe for its intended use as drinkware, particularly for children.

72. Plaintiff and the members of the Classes performed all conditions precedent to Defendant's liability under this contract when they purchased the Products.

73. Defendant breached express warranties relating to the Products and their qualities because Defendant's Product possessed the capability to poison the users, even when correctly used, at the time of purchase and the Products do not conform to Defendant's affirmations and promises described above.

74. Plaintiff and each of the members of the Classes would not have purchased the Products had they known the true nature of the risk of the Product impaling or using those who used the Products.

75. As a result of Defendant's breach of warranty, Plaintiff and each Class Member suffered and continue to suffer financial damage and injury, and are entitled to all damages, in addition to costs, interest and fees, including attorneys' fees, as allowed by law.

COUNT III

Breach of Implied Warranty
(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class and, alternatively, the Subclass)

76. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

77. Defendant is a merchant and was at all relevant times involved in the manufacturing, distributing, warranting, and/or selling of the Products.

78. The Products are “goods” under the relevant laws, and Defendant knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Products, as goods, were purchased.

79. The implied warranty of merchantability included with the sale of each Product means that Defendant guaranteed that the Products would be fit for the ordinary purposes for which cups are used and sold and were not otherwise injurious to consumers. The implied warranty of merchantability is part of the basis for the benefit of the bargain between Defendant, and Plaintiff and the Class Members.

80. Defendant breached the implied warranty of merchantability because the Products are not fit for their ordinary purpose of providing reasonably reliable and safe drinkware, particularly for children, because the Products have a risk of poisoning. Therefore, the Products are not fit for their particular purpose of drinkware.

81. Defendant’s warranty expressly applies to the purchaser of the Products, creating privity between Defendant and Plaintiff and Class Members.

82. However, privity is not required because Plaintiff and Class Members are the intended beneficiaries of Defendant’s warranties and its sale through retailers. Defendant’s retailers were not intended to be the ultimate consumers of the Products and have no rights under the warranty agreements. Defendant’s warranties were designed for and intended to benefit the consumer only, including Plaintiff and Class Members.

83. Defendant has been provided sufficient notice of its breaches of implied warranties associated with the Products. Defendant was put on constructive notice of its breach through its review of consumer complaints and other reports.

84. Had Plaintiff, Class Members, and the consuming public known that the Products could impale them and cause physical harm, they would not have purchased the Products or would have paid less for them.

85. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing, Plaintiff and Class Members suffered and continue to suffer financial damage and injury, and are entitled to all damages, in addition to costs, interest and fees, including attorneys' fees, as allowed by law.

COUNT IV

Breach of the Implied Warranty of Merchantability

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

86. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

87. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

88. Defendant is a merchant engaging in the sale of goods to Plaintiff and the Classes.

89. There was a sale of goods from Defendant to Plaintiff and the Classes.

90. As the developer, manufacturer, marketer, distributor, and/or seller of the defective Products, Defendant impliedly warranted to Plaintiff and the Classes that its Products were fit for their intended purpose in that they would be safe for Plaintiff and the Classes to use as a drinkware.

91. Contrary to these representations and warranties, the Products were not fit for their ordinary use, and did not conform to Defendant's affirmations of fact and promises as use of the Products was accompanied by the risk of adverse health effects that do not conform to the packaging.

92. Defendant breached the implied warranty in the contract for the sale of the Products by knowingly selling to Plaintiff and the Classes a product that Defendant knew would expose Plaintiff and the Classes to significant health risks, thus meaning Defendant knew that the Products were not fit for their intended purpose as safe to use drinkware.

93. Defendant was on notice of this breach, as they were made aware of the adverse health effects caused by lead poisoning that can result from the use of their Products.

94. Plaintiff and the Classes did not receive the goods as bargained for because the goods they received were not merchantable as they did not conform to the ordinary standards for goods of the same average grade, quality, and value.

95. Plaintiff and members of the Classes are the intended beneficiaries of Defendant's implied warranties.

96. The Products were not altered by Plaintiff or the members of the Classes.

97. Plaintiff and members of the Classes used the Products in the ordinary manner in which such cups were intended to be used.

98. The Products were defective when they left the exclusive control of Defendant.

99. The Products were defectively designed and/or manufactured and unfit for their intended purpose as safe to use drinkware, and Plaintiff and members of the Classes did not receive the goods that they bargained for.

100. Plaintiff and members of the Classes purchased the Products that contained the Defect, which was undiscoverable by them at the time of purchase and at any time during the class period.

101. As a result of the defect in the Products, Plaintiff and members of the Classes have suffered damages including, but not limited to, the cost of the defective product, loss of use of the product and other related damage.

102. Defendant breached the implied warranty of merchantability to the Plaintiff and Class members.

103. Thus, Defendant's attempt to limit or disclaim the implied warranties in a manner that would exclude coverage of the Defect is unenforceable and void.

104. Plaintiff and Class members have been damaged by Defendant's breach of the implied warranties.

105. Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and are entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

COUNT V

Fraudulent Concealment

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

106. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

107. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

108. Defendant had a duty to disclose material facts, at the time of sale, to Plaintiff and the Classes given their relationship as contracting parties and intended users of the Products.

109. Defendant also had a duty to disclose material facts to Plaintiff and the Classes, namely that it was in fact manufacturing, distributing, and selling harmful products unfit for human use, because Defendant had superior knowledge such that the transactions without the disclosure were rendered inherently unfair.

110. During this time, Plaintiff, and members of the Classes, were using the Products without knowing the Products could poison the drinkware user.

111. Defendant failed to discharge its duty to disclose these materials facts.

112. In so failing to disclose these material facts to Plaintiff and the Classes, Defendant intended to hide from Plaintiff and the Classes that they were purchasing and consuming the Products with harmful defects that was unfit for human use, and thus acted with scienter and/or an intent to defraud.

113. Plaintiff and the Classes reasonably relied on Defendant's failure to disclose insofar as they would not have purchased the defective Products manufactured and sold by Defendant had they known they possessed this risk of lead poisoning.

114. As a direct and proximate cause of Defendant's fraudulent concealment, Plaintiff, and the Classes, suffered damages in the number of monies paid for the defective Products.

115. As a result of Defendant's willful and malicious conduct, punitive damages are warranted.

COUNT VI

Strict Liability – Failure to Warn

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

116. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

117. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

118. Defendant had a duty to warn Plaintiff and the Class members regarding the Defect and the true risks associated, that being lead poisoning, with the Products.

119. Defendant was in a superior position to know of the Defect, yet, as outlined above, chose to do nothing when the defect became known to them.

120. Defendant failed to provide adequate warnings regarding the risks of the Products after knowledge of the Defect was known only to them.

121. Defendant had information regarding the true risks but failed to warn Plaintiff and members of the Classes to strengthen their warnings.

122. Despite their knowledge of the Defect and obligation to unilaterally strengthen the warnings, Defendant instead chose to actively conceal this knowledge from the public.

123. Plaintiff and members of the Classes would not have purchased, chosen, and/or paid for all or part of the Products if they knew of the Defect and the risks of purchasing the Products.

124. This Defect proximately caused Plaintiff's and Class members' damages.

125. The Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and are entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

COUNT VII

Strict Liability – Design Defect

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

126. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

127. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

128. The design of the Products was defective and unreasonably dangerous.

129. The risk of lead poisoning contained within the Products creates unreasonable danger.

130. The design of the Products rendered them not reasonably fit, suitable, or safe for their intended purpose.

131. The risk of lead poisoning contained within the Products outweighed the benefits and rendered the Products unreasonably dangerous.

132. There are other Products and other similar cups that do not pose the risk of lead poisoning, meaning that there were other means of production available to Defendant.

133. The Products were unreasonably unsafe, and the Products should have had stronger and clearer warnings or should not have been sold in the market.

134. The Products did not perform as an ordinary consumer would expect.

135. Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and are entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

COUNT VIII

Negligent Failure to Warn

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

136. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

137. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

138. Defendant owed Plaintiff and Class members a duty of care and to warn of any risks associated with the Products.

139. Defendant knew or should have known of the defect but failed to warn Plaintiff and members of the Classes.

140. Plaintiff had no way of knowing of the Product's latent defect as an ordinary consumer would be unable to discover the Product could poison the user.

141. Defendant's breach of duty caused Plaintiff and Class members economic damages and injuries in the form of lost value due to lead poisoning.

142. Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and are entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

COUNT IX

Negligent Design Defect

(On Behalf of the Nationwide Class, or alternatively, on behalf of the Subclass)

143. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

144. Plaintiff brings this claim against Defendant, on behalf of herself and the other members of the Nationwide Class, and, alternatively, the State subclass pled in Paragraph 46 (the "Classes").

145. Defendant owed Plaintiff and the Classes a duty to design the Products in a reasonable manner.

146. The design of the Products was defective and unreasonably dangerous, causing exposure to materials with possibly deadly effects. Thus, the Products are now worthless.

147. The design of the Products caused them to be not fit, suitable, or safe for their intended purpose. The dangers of the Products outweighed the benefits and rendered the products unreasonably dangerous.

148. There are other stainless steel cups that do not poison the users.

149. The risk/benefit profile of the Products was unreasonable, and the Products should have had stronger and clearer warnings or should not have been sold in the market.

150. The Products did not perform as an ordinary consumer would expect.

151. The Defendant's negligent design of the Products was the proximate cause of damages to the Plaintiff and the Class members.

152. Plaintiff and Class members have suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and are entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

COUNT X
Negligence

153. Plaintiff incorporates the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1-59 as though set forth fully herein.

154. Defendant owed a duty to consumers to produce a product that was safe for its intended use.

155. Defendant breached this duty by producing a product that was dangerous for its intended use. Defendant knew or should have known that the drinkware with such a lead poisoning would cause injuries once exposed to humans and thus be worthless as a safe-to-use cup.

156. As a direct result of this breach, Plaintiff suffered injury in that Plaintiff has been deprived of their benefit of the bargain. Plaintiff's injuries were caused in fact by Defendant's breach. But for Defendant's negligent manufacture and improper oversight, Plaintiff would not have been injured.

157. Further, Plaintiff's injuries were proximately caused by Defendant's breach. It is foreseeable that a poorly designed cup containing lead would cause injury and lead poisoning, and it is foreseeable that a user would lose their benefit of the bargain if they purchased a dangerous and worthless cup.

158. Plaintiff suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial and Plaintiff is entitled to any incidental, consequential, and other damages and other legal and equitable relief, as well as costs and attorneys' fees, available under law.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the other members of the Classes alleged herein, respectfully requests that the Court enter judgment in her favor and against Defendant as follows:

- A. For an order certifying the Classes under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and naming Plaintiff as the representatives for the Classes and Plaintiff's attorneys as Class Counsel;
- B. For an order declaring the Defendant's conduct violates the causes of action referenced herein;
- C. For an order finding in favor of Plaintiff and the Classes on all counts asserted herein;
- D. For compensatory, statutory, and punitive damages in amounts to be determined by the Court and/or jury;
- E. For prejudgment interest on all amounts awarded;
- F. For an order of restitution and all other forms of equitable monetary relief;
- G. For injunctive relief as pleaded or as the Court may deem proper; and
- H. For an order awarding Plaintiff and the Classes their reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses and costs of suit.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38(b), Plaintiff demands a trial by jury of any and all claims in this Complaint and of any and all issues in this action so triable as of right.
